

U.S. NAVY MAN

In the naval department, the man who came back to the United States after the war was a different man. He was a different man in the army, too. For instance, he was an open secret in the United States, didn't get along any too well with General Pershing, commander-in-chief on the other side. This was when brief cablegrams and a distance of 3,000 miles separated them from their home of

Was Glasses' Mission

Logically Captain Glasses should have gone to Europe just before the outbreak of the war as America's naval part. If we entered the war, would fail, it was recognized, upon destroyers and Glasses was in command of our destroyer flotilla. But because Sims had a reputation for "getting along well with British," he was selected. And he did many splendid things which won him the admiration of the navy department. When the war was over, Admiral Sims asked to the post of executive at the navy college. It was reliably reported that he really wanted to be a sea commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet. In truth, he did not apply for the job himself but devoted his time to opposing the selection of Rear Admiral Henry B. Wilson, who had been in command of naval operations off the coast of France where the great bulk of American troops were safely landed during the most destructive activities of submarines. The navy department didn't listen to Admiral Sims' objections to Admiral Wilson whom he charged with being a poor sub-

To Fight Film

DENTAL SCIENCE has proved that the great tooth trouble is a sticky film. You can feel it with your tongue. Most tooth troubles are caused by it. It sticks to the teeth, the crevices, hardens and stays. And tooth will decay and decay where that film stays, however much you brush them. That is why millions of tooth brush users fail to save their teeth.

That film is what discolors—not the teeth. It is the basis of tartar. It holds food substances which ferment and form acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of gums breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Scientists have for years sought ways to combat that film, but the methods proved inadequate. Then one man, after extensive research, applied scientific principles—a discovery—to the film. And many clinical tests seem to clearly prove that he solved this great film problem.

We ask you to see for yourself. This pepsin method is employed in Pepsodent and we offer a 10-Day Tube. See what it does when you use it. See the results in ten days. It will show you a way to clean your teeth as you never have cleaned them before.

See How They Glisten

Analysis shows that the film is albuminous. Pepsin digests albumen. The object in Pepsodent is to dissolve the film, then to constantly combat it. But pepsin alone is inert. It must be activated, and the usual agent is an acid harmful to the teeth. So pepsin long seemed forbidden.

Now a harmless, activating method has been found. And that method, used in Pepsodent, makes efficient pepsin possible.

Able authorities have proved Pepsodent by convincing clinical tests. It has been adopted, and is now endorsed, by leading dentists everywhere. It does what nothing else has done, and everyone should use it. We urge you to prove it yourself. Ask us for a 10-Day Tube. Look at your teeth and see what it does. See how they glisten. Do this for your sake and your children's sake. Learn the way—the only way—to cleaner, safer teeth.
